Loreley

Loreley is a premium stone decor. The surface has a natural and rough look. The numerous details, traces of weathering and visible seams between the individual layers of slate demonstrate its authenticity and create an impressive 3D effect. Loreley charms in bold colours as well as in calmer tones and is excellent for both fronts and worktops

Characteristic: slate, three-dimensional, rough, authentic

Application: surface, worktops, front

Application: furniture, caravan, doors

The calm oak decor Cape Town features understated planking, slender light flowers and small knotty buds. Clear and filigree pore outlines define the appearance and provide the decor with a stunning depth effect. The associated haptic cylinder supports this three-dimensional impression. A supplementary metallic effect further augments the texture. The well-balanced furniture decor is ideal for use on small and large surfaces, in the caravan sector and for the door industry.
