SURTECO showered with prizes

Trends move our world.

Design is what makes us stand out.

International juries recognise our work.

As an expert for creative design and high-end surface finishes, we are committed to implement trends in a tangibly vital way, across all branches and national boundaries. In product development, presentation and communication.

Edition Co-Equal

Surface design for decor papers

With the help of the layering process, Edition Co-Equal unites different patterns to produce new surface designs for decor papers. Traditional herringbone, azulejo tiles or ethnic patterns enter into a liaison with wood, stone or fantasy decors. This diversity of combinations is made possible by the use of modern overprint cylinders which also permit individual wishes to be executed. In addition, digital and analogue printing processes are in use in parallel, thus producing a joint, expressive overall image.

Statement by the jury

“By using a alaying process, the edition mingles different patterns to create new surface designs for decorative papers.”

Döllken DIGITAL-EDGE

Milestone in the edge design

The premium high-gloss work surface edges impresses with a true-to-scale printed image combined with a premium high-gloss finish. With the help of the newly-developed Digital Edge technology, it has become possible for the first time, to also show individual motifs (logos, photos, lettering, graphic design) on thermoplastic edgebanding. The specific placement of distinctive design details has now become possible for creative furniture manufacturers and interior designers. Gloss levels from matt to mirror gloss are available.

Statement by the jury

“Unique print images permit seamless edge design – Top and edge all of a piece.”

RTECO

„ONE in Motion“

Fair stand at interzum 2017

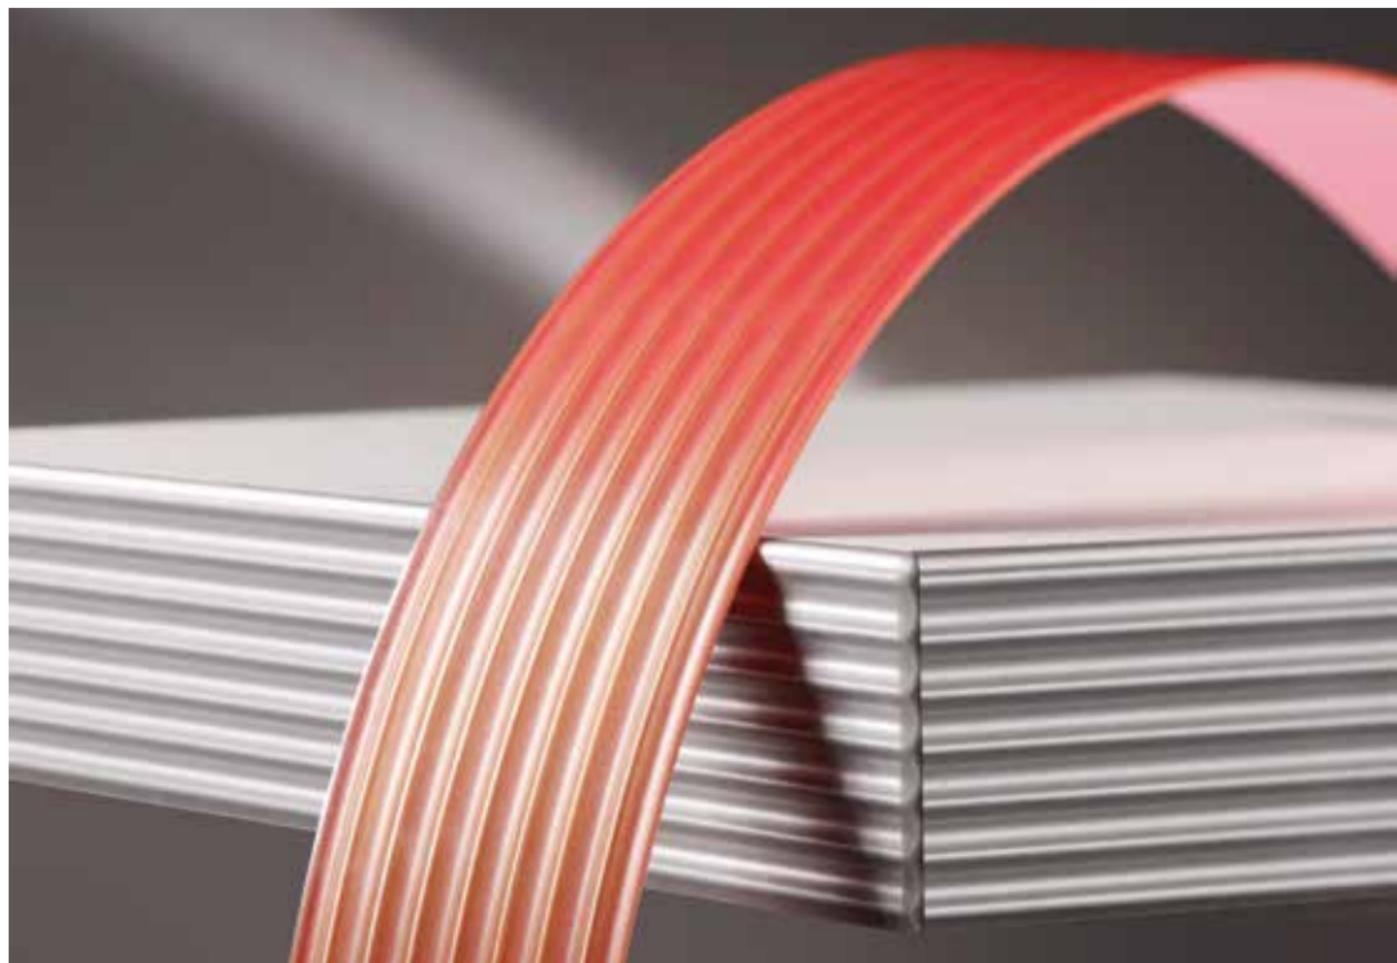

550m² of inspiration: SURTECO presents itself at interzum 2017 with an imposing architecture. The aim was not only to show the diverse skills of the surface specialists, but also to make these tangible, and to inspire. Over five-meter high trees rise into the room, impressively allowing the product portfolio (new designs, highlights in decor matching, technical innovations) to unfold. The orchestration of the edges, in particular, with their corrugated 3D look, drew all eyes.

Statement by the jury

“The image of iconic trees conspicuously installed above the stand, forming a covering over it, endows this trade show stand with a characteristic identity.”

Döllken 3D-Space-Wave

A new take on embossing

As a rule, edgbanding as a finish for chipboard for the furniture industry is usually produced using single-colour thermoplastics. The 3D Space Wave innovation combines an unusual design with simple further processing. The co-extrusion of the plastic acrylic and the integrated wave embossing, featuring clear and coloured areas, achieves a look of extreme depth. This optic effect is a genuine innovation in the area of furniture making. At the same time, the smooth surfaces are easy-clean in use and ideal in further processing.

Statement by the jury

"A genuine eye-catcher: Skilfully upgrading furniture edges."

Döllken Coredesign

Winner in the category "Surface Systems"

Thanks to the Döllken digital printing technique, two different decors can be printed onto the edge at the same time, in top quality. This makes it possible, without a lot of effort, e.g. to reflect the decor of the niche splashback or the decor of the kitchen fronts as the core of the worktop. This blends the worktop with the entire kitchen – creating a harmonious kitchen world. The Döllken DIGITAL-EDGE "Coredesign" offers design solutions in detail.

Statement by the jury

"Clear lines
elegantly executed."
